

Maintain uniform desktop space for organizational groups based on their needs yet obtain the flexibility to allow for individual assignments based on user needs and logon location.

With Simplify Desktop, we believe in an out of sight, out of mind approach to user desktop management. Often times an organization needs a user to have access to specific programs that lead to the need for desktop management software with customizable, yet easily controllable, desktop interfaces.

Would you like to avoid the script writing and policy edits that can be involved with every individual owner object? Don't want to worry about the security requirements during remote access? Limit the means to accessing the Run Command and Control Panel and aid in meeting compliance by allowing access to designated applications.

Why continue to schlepp through inadequate desktop environments when there's a management tool that can answer administrative, IT, and user frustrations with one powerful program?

Erase the complexity of managing a corporate user workstation with Simplify Desktop.

Simplify Desktop allows you to create specific desktops based on users, groups, or even workstation location without the hassle of time consuming system policies or scripting. Within Simplify Desktop, owner objects and applications can be easily assigned with drag and drop. Now you have the option of handling this would-be chore with ease as desktop differentiation becomes a task you can manage in minutes.
